It is also BGHS procedure that students' rights and confidentiality around issues of sexuality are respected. We encourage students to disclose homophobic bullying to a staff member, and will ensure that bullying will be taken seriously. Online Bullying (Cyber Bullying)

What is online bullying?

Online, or cyberbullying, is an intentional, repeated behaviour by an individual or group to cause distress or undue pressure to others using technology.

Today's technology allows children to communicate instantly with others in both positive and negative ways. Online bullying includes all communications that seek to threaten, humiliate, intimidate, control or put another person or persons down.

How does online bullying work?

Online bullying can be carried out through an internet service such as:

- Email
- Instant messaging
- Chatroom
- Discussion group or forum
- Social networking websites such as Instagram, Facebook, Twitter or YouTube.

Online bullying can also include bullying through mobile phones by:

- Text and picture messaging video clips
- Phone calls.

Online bullies can repeatedly leave negative messages, harass, exclude or cyberstalk victims using these technologies.

Some examples of Cyber Bullying

- Sending hateful or threatening comments or pictures by mobile phones or through social media.
- Posting rude, embarrassing messages or pictures of someone on social media.
- Using social media to socially exclude an individual.
- Creating a fake identity and using it to harm an individual.
- Filming or taking pictures of someone and using them to hurt someone on social media.
- Revealing personal and confidential information about someone without their consent.
- Sexting – taking explicit photos of yourself or others and placing them on social media so others can see them is morally wrong and illegal.

Cyberbullying can be particularly damaging because of the capacity it has to humiliate, hurt and harm a person in front of a wide audience. It can be done quickly and easily and the cyberbully can often be unaware of the extent of the harm being caused. Cyberbullying has been linked to depression, self-harm and even suicide.

Cyberbullying is against the law and can result in police involvement.

1. Never share your password; or any private details.
2. Being careful sharing who you talk to online, as they may not be who they say they are.
3. Never share information or images of yourself to anyone who you do not know.
4. Never share information or images of or about yourself that you would not want shared. Someone who is your friend today may not be your friend tomorrow.
5. Never agree to meet up with someone you do not know.
6. Remember, once an image is on the internet, it can never be entirely removed.
7. If you are cyberbullied, keep the evidence and report to your parents and the school.

What you should do if you are subject to cyberbullying or stalking?

- Immediately inform your parent/caregiver.
- If you know the person, you should contact him/her and ask him/her to stop.
- Block the offender from your page.
- Print/save a copy of offending messages if possible, to allow for effective follow up.
- If the person is a student at BGHS, report the incident to your Year Advisor, Head Teacher Wellbeing or Deputy immediately.
- If the person is not a student at BGHS, report the incident to the police.
- Report Abuse to web administrators. Click on a 'report abuse' link on the website being used. This website will remove the offensive content, this can take time. If the material is not removed in 48 hours, you can lodge a complaint through the office of the Children's eSafety Commissioner.

What are the consequences for cyberbullying or stalking?

It is a criminal offence with possible legal repercussions to use emails, telephones or text messaging:

- To threaten to kill or harm a person where the intention is to make the other person fearful that the threat will be carried out.
- If the content of the messages or phone calls can be regarded as threatening, harassing or offensive.
- To intimidate a person for the purpose of causing someone fear of physical or psychological harm.

You, or your parent/caregiver need to contact the police who will take whatever action is necessary.

A Police Youth Liaison Officer is available to assist you at Burwood Police Station and can be contacted on Ph: 9745.8499.

How to deal with Bullying and Harassment?

If you are harassed or bullied you can take a number of steps:

- If it only happens once and you can cope with it, you could ignore the behaviour.
- If it continues, you could say to the bully "Stop it. You are bullying me and I don't like it."
- Try and stay in a group and not be by yourself.
- Always talk it over with people you trust – friends and/or family – who can help plan how to deal with the bullying.
- Do not retaliate aggressively, either physically or verbally. Dealing with the situation in a non-hostile manner commonly goes against the response the person was hoping for.
- You should report it to your teacher, Year Advisor, HT Wellbeing or Deputy who will take action to stop the bullying.

Be an effective Upstander

Take action if you know someone who is being bullied. Students who observe any form of harassment, bullying or discrimination involving someone in the school community wherever it occurs, are strongly encouraged to report this to a member of staff as soon as possible.

Bystanders contribute to the problem – Upstanders can stop the problem.

1. Offer your support
2. Talk to the student about it.
3. Try to make sure the student is not alone at times when they could be bullied or harassed.
4. Encourage the student to report the incident to a member of staff.

How to encourage your child to be an effective Upstander

- Talk with your child about bullying
Ask your child about what happens at school and keep the lines of communication open. That way they are more likely to confide in you.
- Ask others for help
Bystanders far outnumber those who are bullying. Have your child ask others to help say 'stop' to the person bullying.
- Tell your child to keep their own safety in mind and to tell an adult if they are worried about bullying
The important thing is to teach young people how to intervene appropriately so that they don't put themselves or anyone else in danger.

Telling an adult is not dobbing

- Let your child know it's okay to tell
Make it safe for your child to tell you about what happens at school and how it makes them feel. Try to listen without rushing in with solutions.
- Help your child with strategies to help others who are being bullied
If gossip is being spread about someone they know, encourage your child to speak up and tell the truth. Tell your child not to join in bullying behaviour.
- Know how to report bullying
Young people need to know that they can ask several trusted adults at school for help. Ask your child which adults at school they would report bullying to.
- Show your child respect and kindness at home
If members of the family treat each other well, your child will most likely treat others the same way.

What actions will occur if bullying or harassment continues?

- If the bullying behaviour persists see your Year Advisor who can refer the situation to the Head Teacher Wellbeing and/or Deputy Principal who will then take action to stop the bullying or harassment.
- If the situation continues or escalates, the HT Wellbeing/Deputy Principal will issue a warning to the bully and their parents will be contacted.
- The bully will be issued a warning letter which is to be taken home, signed by a parent/guardian, and returned to the HT Wellbeing/Deputy Principal.
- If the bullying still continues this may lead to suspension and follow up parent meeting.
- If the bullying is happening outside of school, during the evening or on weekends it should be reported to the local POLICE.
- If students from another school are taking part in bullying behaviours, tell your parents who can:-
 - Report it to the Principal of that school
 - Report it to the Police
 - Report it to Deputy/Principal of BGHS who will then contact the Deputy/Principal of that school. The other school is responsible for dealing with their students who are taking part in the bullying.

Other intervention may include:

- Individual or group mediation by the Year Advisor, HT Wellbeing or School Counsellor.
- Parent contact
- Year Advisor, Head Teacher Wellbeing or Deputy Principal discussing strategies with students and parents.
